Membership

be a part of it all

You can be a part of acknowledging the unique qualities of California, so essential as we look to the future. CHF archives, exhibits and programs as well as the retention of the Old California School are made possible solely through the interest of members like you who have been touched by the history and community of California. From riverboats, to natural recreation, to Coney Island, the river village of California has much to offer.

Hugging the bank of the Ohio River in the eastern reaches of Cincinnati, lies the Village of California. The hills of Kentucky and the mighty Ohio River join forces to create the Village's powerful backdrop. The history of this small community is as rich and colorful as the people who live here.
